LOVERS ARE FIRED ON BY GUNMEN

Couple Escapes Injury As Barrage Hits Car

Nobody was hurt but a couple of lovers were visibly shaken up early Tuesday morning at Thornton beach when four gunmen sent a shower of bullets into their fleeing car.

James Yee, 46, Chinese-American of 858 Washington street, San Francisco, told the story to Daly City police.

Yee said he and a young lady, who was not identified, were parked on the lovers' retreat at 3 a.m. when a black sedan with four men in it approached them and slowed down.

The Return

There were several other cars parked in the area and the vehicle went on. About 10 minutes later, Yee said, the car, a black sedan, returned with its four occupants.

Three of the men stepped out of the car and approached Yee with guns in hand. Yee locked the car doors from the inside and refused to agree to the thugs demands that he "open the doors and come out here."

Yee drove off instead. As he sped away from the beach area, Yee said he heard three shots and felt something hit the car.

Forced To Stop

He got as far as the Westlake shopping center, where he was forced to stop with a flat tire, caused by one of the bullets.

Yee approached Officer Bruno Conci, on patrol in the area, and told him his story.

Officers Les Bastedo, John Colman and Jim Sunderland searched the area to no avail.

Police said shotgun pellet holes were found in the trunk, the left rear fender and tire of the victim's auto. Two bullet holes were also found. Two 12-guage shotgun casings and a .32 caliber bullet casing were found at the shooting site.

Yee described the quartet as all from 25 to 27 years of age.

The pursued were "prety upset" over the whole thing, police said.

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

The recent wave of SF crackdowns on drinkeries, prompted by, 1.) either political aspirations of a certain board of equalization member or, 2.) a guilty conscience on the part of the Big City's law enforcement agencies, has engulfed a Daly City resident.

JEWEL MOSS, 119 East Vista, (her spouse, CHESTER G., is co-owner of the Pago Pago club in the International Settlement) wound up a target recently for the hot-footing flat-feet.

The barkeep's missus had just been in the Pago Pago ten minutes when the clean-up crew ups and nabs everybody in sight. They hustled Mrs. Moss off and booked her on a charge of "destroying evidence," (the poor lady doesn't even work there).

Then the city papers went to work and when the next editions hit the street Mrs. Moss read all about herself. According to reports the cops had her for everything from B-girl to what have you.

Needless to say, Mrs. M. was none too pleased with the sundry accounts and, perhaps, a libel suit

SAN FRANCISCO CHANGES TACTICS IN BIG LAND GRAB

The San Francisco board of supervisors did a complete turnabout this week in their plans for annexing Westlake and Broadmoor and launched a new legislative effort to amend a 24-year-old law on the California statutes.

Supervisor Edward Mancuso told THE RECORD this week that the two bills pending before the legislature to allow annexation of property in one county by another county "are no longer of any concern to us."

Sought To Re-Word

The board's recent efforts had been toward re-wording the bills, one of which was introduced by Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers of San Francisco, so that an election in the whole of San Mateo county would not be necessary for acquisition of the Westlake-Broadmoor areas.

After legal study, however, the supervisors discovered that the San Francisco-San Mateo Consolidation act of 1929 would more suit their purpose, and that the recent bills were not needed.

The act, which concerns only these two counties, specifies that any consolidated city and county (San Francisco is the only one in the state) may annex territory in an adjacent county.

Requires Election

But at present, according to Thomas J. Blanchard, assistant city attorney in San Francisco, the act requires a general election in San Mateo county, in the area affected, and in the city and county of San Francisco.

The city's new strategy will be to amend the consolidation act so that no election is required in San Mateo county.

Blanchard said further study would also have to be made into the matter of one city and county annexing territory lying in another city (Westlake).

San Francisco's plot to grab San Mateo county land has come up for verbal lashing recently by this area's representatives in the legislature.

Fight "Every Inch"

Assemblyman Daniel Creedon said any move in the direction to take this county's land "will be fought every inch of the way." Senator Harry L. Parkman and Assemblyman Richard Dolwig agreed with Creedon's sentiment.

Dolwig said, "It is in the interests of constituted authority to forestall any such measure."

Parkman said, "I am absolutely and unalterably opposed. I will not stand for any move on the part of San Francisco to take even one acre away from San Mateo county."

He added that "I will not only do everything I can, but see to it that every senator becomes aware of the danger to his district."

Seek 100 Pints Of Blood In April 28th Campaign

A quota of 100 pints of blood has been set for the drive to be held here April 28 in front of the Eagles hall.

Dr. John Karsant and Mel Battye, chairmen of the blood-raising effort, sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lions, have announced the mobile blood unit will be in front of the hall from 2 to 7 p.m. in an effort to gain the 100 pints of blood.

Free taxi transportation to and from the donating site will be offered by the Hilltop Cab company, the chairmen said.

Daly City May Receive $55,000 State Funds Aid

Chances for Daly City's securing $55,000 in state aid appeared good this week as local councilmen conferred at length Tuesday with a state finance official.

Mayor Anthony Gaggero and Councilmen James Kennedy and Paul Green visited Sacramento in an effort to investigate this city's eligibility for some $55,000 in two special aid funds.

A total of $50,000 might be realized from the Christmas Tree fund, chapter 20, which offers financial aid to cities for public improvement, after the cities have complied with state sanitation requirements.

Kennedy said that since Daly City is part of a sewage district, it appears to have fulfilled requirements.

If obtained, the money would probably be channelled for improvement of local water facilities.

Deadline for filing formal application for the money is December 30, this year. However, tentative plans in the legislature call for extending this deadline for two years, Kennedy said.

An additional $5000 may be obtained for Daly City through chapter 47, which provides matching allocations for site acquisition on municipal projects.

If this money is granted, the city may use it to finish up the Brunswick street extension, according to councilmen. Application deadline for this fund is June 30.

Applications for both amounts will be made immediately the councilmen said, following more intensive study.

All of the city officials making the Sacramento trek expressed confidence that the city would be granted the aid.

The finance department official who discussed the aid with local councilmen, is scheduled to meet with Don Renike, state health department officer, in the near future, to investigate the allocations.

Bocci Says Northern Court Is Busiest

A total of $5204.05 in revenues from the municipal court was turned over to the city of Daly City for the month of March.

According to the records of Judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr. the northern county municipal court has disposed of more than twice as many criminal cases as any of the other courts.

Revenues turned over other cities and the county in the northern district for the March period were: South San Francisco, $5312.48; San Bruno, $1914.07; San Mateo county, $5732.15.

The fact that his court is doing twice as much "business" as the other four muni district courts wasn't attributed by Bocci to the creation of the municipal court district. "This was true even prior to creation of the municipal court district," Bocci said.

Bocci pointed out that 4597 individual criminal and traffic matters were handled in December, 1952, in his justice court as compared to 2189 in Redwood City, 1997 in San Mateo and 429 in Burlingame.

"We have more cities in our district, but the population is far less," Bocci observed. He indicated that perhaps the proximity of San Francisco made the highway patrol more concentrated in the northern area.

Decision to become a non-profit corporation was made Wednesday at the regular Monthly meeting of the Westlake Business and Professional association.

Julian D. Cohn was appointed chairman to draw up articles of incorporation to be presented at the next meeting, May 13. Assisting him will be Bernard Etcheverry.

Monthly dues were also discussed at Wednesday's meeting. Don Miller was made chairman of a group to study the matter.

Dr. Louis H. Minkin was appointed to contact the doctors and dentists who might be interested in joining the organization.

LEAD BURGLARS HIT LOCAL FIRM

Theft Of Scarce Item Is Sixth In Past Month

A gang of burglars, reputed to be "black market" dealers in the scarce commodity of lead, hit here Sunday night at the New Mission Plumbing Company, Southgate and Lynnewood drives.

The thieves got away with approximately 75 to 100 pounds of lead and 15 general control thermostats, according to police. Value of the stolen property was estimated at $100.

The theft marked the sixth such reported in the county within a month. In each case the gang gained entry by snipping the hasps from doors.

Earlier the black marketeers struck four times in Belmont and once in South San Francisco. Each time lead ingots were taken. The price of lead on the black market is now approximately 15 cents a pound, since its sale is controlled by the atomic energy commission because of its scarcity.

JOE BELLI WINS COMMISSION POST IN BROADMOOR

Joe Belli, 1547 Sweetwood drive, beat out incumbent Armando Ferraris and Stephen O'Brien Monday in the race for Broadmoor's one vacant police commission post.

Belli, vice-president of the local Lions and treasurer of the Broadmoor Property Owners association, received 122 votes. Ferraris garnered 90; O'Brien 32.

The winning candidate has resided in Broadmoor the past five years, and has been a Colma resident all his life.

He was sworn in Tuesday morning by the county clerk.

Monday's vote, slightly more than 200, was exceptionally light, compared with the ballotting at last year's police commission election, which was above 500.

Driver Who Hit Cop Fined $150 In Court

Percy E. Derocher, 37-year-old San Francisco driver who rung up a total of five traffic counts against himself here after running an arterial at Crocker and Mission streets, hitting a police car and damaging another auto on March 25, pleaded guilty to drunken driving in Judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr.'s municipal court this week.

Derocher, who lives at 2148 Third street, was given a 30-day suspended sentence in the county jail. Condition was that he pay a fine of $150 in lieu of the sentence.

Oscar Wickstrom, 114 Cherry street, South San Francisco, pleaded guilty to being drunk in and about an automobile in Daly City and was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail by Bocci. The sentece was suspended on condition he pay a fine of $50.

Local Man Witness To Tragic Mishap

Harold B. Martin, 19 Willits street, was the sole witness Sunday to a tragic accident on Waldo aproach to Golden Gate bridge that killed three persons.

Killed were: August L. Ross, 34, a navy electrician; Luthern Simpson, 35, a civilian boilermaker for the navy; and Howard M. Walker, 35, a merchant seaman.

They were found near the wrecked convertible that they were riding in when it plunged off an overpass on the Marin county side of the approach.

The auto dropped 50 feet. Ross died immediately, while Walker and Simpson died later at Marin General hospital of "multiple injuries." All three lived in San Francisco.

Martin told highway patrolmen he observed the car being driven in an erratic manner, northbound on highway 101 near the bridge.

Martin said he attempted to trail the car, intending to hail the first highway patrolman he saw. The driver "was going first fast, then slow and weaving from side to side," Martin said.

"Just before we got to the overpass opposite Marin City, the car passed another. Then it seemed to drift over, hit a bank, weaved back and went off the road. It turned completely over and landed on the road below after clipping the end of a guard rail," the eyewitness said.

Police Stop 754 Cars In Friday Safety Check

A total of 754 cars were stopped in a traffic safety check held Friday night from 8 a.m. until midnight on Mission street in front of the community center.

The check was made by eight auxiliary police officers and two regular officers.

Notices were given for the following defects; Faulty lights, 63; drunken driving, 1; invalid drivers license, 5; windshield, 2.

NO PARADE THIS YEAR AT FESTIVAL

State Highway Officials Say It Will Block Traffic

Daly City's Spring Festival May 17 will again be without a parade.

Dan Andersen, city administrator, said at yesterday's Chamber of Commerce meeting that opinion of highway officials indicates the parade will not be allowed.

The parade was to be routed south on Mission street. Andersen said state highway officials would in all probability not allow holding of the event there since the thoroughfare is a state high. Sunday traffic would have to be blocked for an estimated five hours, at least, he said.

The administrator said official notification had not been given yet, but he expected the state's decision to be negative.

Original plans for the festival had called for a gigantic parade to wend its way down Mission, culminating at the Jefferson high school.

At yesterday's Chamber gathering Pete Markovich stressed the necessity of putting over the Tuesday night Sports Celebrity Testimonial diner.

He told the group that less than 100 tickets had been sold to date, and that support of the members was necessary to make the event a success.

The Chamber has gone on record as opposed to the recently suggested county sales tax. The board said the plan is "discriminatory" as it now stands.

THREE BURGLARIES HERE ARE SOLVED

Police Nab 6 Juveniles Involved In Break-Ins

Three of the many burglaries that have plagued the Daly City area recently were cleared up this week with apprehension of juvenile thieves.

9 Years Old

Police picked up a nine-year-old child Monday shortly after the youth had ransacked the home of Thomas Starkovich, 576 Bellevue, and escaped with $13 in change from a piggy bank.

The child's apprehension was brought about when another youngster, a neighbor of Starkovich's, identified him as the one who had broken the window and entered the residence.

The youthful culprit asked the other child to give him a boost through the window, explaining that he was a friend of the owner.

When he could not secure assistance, the young burglar took a rock and threw it through the rear kitchen window, then entered, ransacking the drawers and breaking the piggy bank containing the loot.

He was released to the custody of his parents.

13 Years O'd

That same night police picked up a 13-year-old who confessed to breaking into the Jefferson high men's gym the previous night and making way with two starting pistols valued at about $75.

Police said the youth had broken into the gymnasium on previous occasions. The youngster was turned over to county juvenile authorities.

Four youths have also confessed to breaking into the Girl Scout house, 315 Templeton, and escaping with some $20 in Scout money.

14, 15 and 17 Years Old

Two of the juveniles were 14 years old, one 15, and one 17. Of the quartet, two had been involved earlier in a minor fire at the Daly City Theater, police said.

According to police, the youths left the show after staying about an hour, and asked the manager for a refund. On his refusal, they returned to the balcony and left a lighted cigarette in one of the seats, causing a small blaze.

All four were placed in custody of county juvenile authorities.

COUNCIL MOVES ON TWO LOCAL ANNEX ISSUES

The city council Monday night introduced ordinances for the annexation of Abbey and Seventy-Five Dollar Homesteads but threw out the stipulation that the PG&E would automatically be granted a use permit for construction of a sub-station in the Abbey area.

In the PG&E's original application for annexation, the wording was such that if the company's property were annexed, sanction for building the sub-station would be granted simultaneously.

Councilman Joe Verducci said during the meeting that "some members of the council are in favor of the annexation, but not necessarily in favor of the sub-station construction."

The council met in a study session on the problem Friday night, with two of the members opposing the sub-station, two for it, and one abstaining, according to an unofficial report.

As it now stands, if the area is annexed, the PG&E will have to re-submit an application for a use permit. This matter will be under jurisdiction of the planning commission, which will later recommend a course of action to the council.

Before adoption the two annexation ordinances must be read again. Indications are that the council will take action on them Monday night.

The other annexation ordinance concerned the Seventy-Five Dollar Homestead, a seven-block area west of Junipero Serra boulevard.

The Serra theater, located in the area proposed for annexation, had at an earlier date protested being taken in by Daly City, but withdrew their protest Monday night in a letter directed to the council.

Local Firm Plans $35,000,000 Housing Project At Pedro

The Sterling Builders of 6798 Mission street here Friday announced plans for the largest single housing development in the Bay Area, a $35,000,000 project in San Mateo county's Pedro valley five miles south of Sharp Park and about three and a half miles north of Montara on Coast highway No. 1.

The local firm will develop the 100 acre tract into a 300-home subdivision. All of the homes will be ranch style and will sell between $9000 and $14,000.

Chris Finson and Andy Oddstad, operators of the firm, said that it is by far the largest single development of its kind in the history of the Bay Area.

The new project will be officially dedicated on May 30, at which time several model homes are scheduled to be completed.

GUY KITSON FILES FOR TRUSTEE

Two Candidates Now In Race for Hi School Post

Guy G. Kitson, 397 Beaumont avenue, Sharp Park, this week became the second person to file for the one trusteeship open in the Jefferson Union high school district.

Kitson, who works with the San Francisco water department, filed Tuesday with the county superintendent of schools.

Mildred E. McGeein, incumbent, was the first to file. Her term expires this month.

Deadline for declaring intention to run for the three-year term is Wednesday. The election will be held May 15.

HONOR ATHLETES HERE TUESDAY AT CENTER BANQUET

Daly City's currently prominent athletes will be honored Tuesday night at a Sports Celebrity Testimonial banquet to be held in the local community center.

The event will begin at 7:15 p.m. and will feature as speakers Tom Foley, basketball coach at St. Mary's college; Pat Mahoney, pro at Lake Merced Golf and Country club; and Hank Luisetti, all-time basketball great from Stanford.

Toastmaster for the occasion will be John Mongan, Jefferson union high school vice-principal.

Those to be honored are Jefferson high's varsity basketball team, Peninsula Athletic league champions this year; Bob Silvestri, amateur state golf champion; and Art Linhares, finalist in the San Francisco City Golf tournament. All are products of Jefferson high school.

Movies will be shown following the banquet and sports personalities on hand will narrate them.

Pete Markovich and Bob Hunter, co-chairmen of the event, sponsored by the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, have announced that tickets for the function, selling at $4.50, are still available.

Date For Sewage Vote Will Be Set Monday

Date for a bond election for financing a half-million dollar sewage treatment plant here will be set Monday at a meeting of the district's board of trustees.

James Kennedy, president of the board, said the setting up of precincts and their personnel will also be taken care of Monday.

Full Use Of Center Seen Within 60 Days

Full-scale use of the local community center in 60 to 90 days was predicted this week.

James Mason, recreation director, said at Monday night's recreation commission meeting that heating facilities would be installed within the next 60 to 90 days, thus enabling use of the center for civic and club functions.

Announcement was also made at Monday's meeting that gym equipment would be installed at the Center beginning Monday.

The commission will hold a special meeting tonight to set up a standard of fees and rentals and to establish a schedule for use of the center.

Last week's Easter egg hunt was one of the main topics of discussion at the commission's meeting Monday.

Members came to the conclusion that such a project was becoming too large for the city to handle alone. They mentioned that in other Peninsula cities such activities are sponsored by civic groups such as the Chamber of Commerce or Lions clubs.

The problem was, the commission said, that there just weren't enough eggs available.

The commission commended Ed Mosconi and the various civic groups that worked on the egg hunt.

Approval was given for use of the center by the Druids on April 16 and 17. They plan to hold a hobby show at that time.

The commission also approved the community center budget and the recreation budget for the year 1953-'54, and forwarded them to the city council.

Edmund Cavagnaro was named new chairman of the recreation commission. He replaces George Pingry, who resigned the position recently.

Walt Gillies, newly appointed member of the commission, was named publicity chairman.

More Kids Than Eggs At Easter Egg Hunt

GREATER THAN EXPECTATIONS was the turnout of young fry at last week's Daly City Easter egg hunt. In fact, some 5000 children thronged to the three hunting sites, uncovering all of the 4000 colored eggs in about 15 minutes. Most amazing find of the day was when these youngsters pictured above chanced upon a bird's nest during the hunt. Among the thousands of eggs were 72 marked prize. Every last one was found and the lucky children tromped home with grins spread all over their faces. The event was sponsored by the local recreation department and was aided by the PTAs and other civic groups.

might salve her injured equanimity. . She's pondering it.

Arriving home Monday after 19 months in Korea (action in Seoul, Heart Break ridge, other major battles) was CPL. BILL HENDERSON, whose parents, MR. and MRS. A. N. CAPECCHI, live at 713 Bellevue avenue.

He was hors de combat off and on after being wounded four times. Following a couple weeks at home he'll go to Texas to spend the remainder of his 45-day furlough with relatives in that state.

Ever since the big news on war prisoner exchange in Korea, DORIS OTTOBONI, secretary at Jefferson high, has been justifiably excited.

Her one and only, UMBERTO CUPERRO of South San Francisco, has been in a Korean prison camp for more than a year now, after being captured while out on his first patrol.

ARMANDO FERRARIS, former Broadmoor police commissioner, gave it a real go in Monday's election for that post. Ferraris was seen escorting voters by vehicle to the polling place, all to no avail, as marketman JOE BELLI turned the tables, scoring 122 votes. Ferraris ran second with 90.

GEORGE GLASSE, owner of Hilltop market, tells this tale of woe: After intercepting a lady with four cans of beer on her way out (without the formality of paying for them) police queried the lady as to her reason. "The line was too long, so I walked out," she explained logically, proving, perhaps, the axiom that "there's no wrath like that of a woman scorned."

Second County Suicide

Mrs. Dorothy Estelle Clark, about 55, manager of an apartment house at 1211 Bellevue avenue, Burlingame, became the second county woman to commit suicide within seven hours Friday when she hurled herself in front of a fast northbound passenger train at Oak Grove avenue crossing, Burlingame police said.

Earlier the same day Mrs. Hope Bernice Scribner, 34, Pescadero housewife and mother, shot herself above the right temple with a .22 caliber target pistol.

Mrs. Clark's fatal act came after four months of suicide threats and even as police were maintaining a watch on her apartment to make sure she did not take her own life.

She was despondent over financial affairs and because she had not heard from her daughter during the past 15 months.

Lie For Licenses

Jackues R. Blum, a licensed pinball distributor in Santa Clara county, said this week that several pinball machine distributors in this county "lied" when they filled out their application forms for licenses.

His accusations followed Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore's recommendation to the board that Blum's application for a license be denied.

"I could have lied on my application like the others did and say the machines were mine," Blum said. (In making out his application Blum stated he intended to rent the machines from Louis Wolcher of San Francisco, who is now under indictment by a San Francisco federal grand jury for income tax evasion.)

Supervisors promised to check into Blum's charges.

Woodrow Wilson PTA Will See Color Film

"San Francisco at Play," a color sound motion picture on park and play areas of San Francisco, will be shown at the next regular meeting of the Woodrow Wilson PTA, April 21, at 7:30 p.m.

A speaker will also be available to answer any questions.

Following the film the new officers of Woodrow for the year 1953-54 will be installed by the counsellor, Mrs. J. B. Mills.

Mesdames Williams, Venturini, Simonsen, Miille and Tydingco assisted the Daly City recreation department with the annual Easter egg hunt held April 2.

Jeff High PTA Board Plans Pot Luck Dinner

The Jefferson Union high school PTA executive board met at the home of Mrs. Everett Heagney, with Mrs. Melton Jensen as hostess.

Old business of the year was taken care of and final plans and the date was set for the pot luck dinner.

The dinner will be held at the high school cafeteria Wednesday from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Prices are $1 for adults and 50c for children under 12.

The public is invited.

Friendly Neighbors Club Holds Easter Egg Hunt

The Friendly Neighbors club held their Eastern egg hunt for their youngsters Friday at the park behind Jefferson high school.

The event is an annual affair.

Daly City Man Hears Significance Of Regimental Crest

Pvt. Frank D. Castagnola, (far right), son of Larry Castagnola, 215 Station avenue, Daly City, hears the significance of the 29th Infantry Regimental crest explained by Lt. Col. Horace Bradbury on Okinawa. Castagnola, who entered the Army last summer, has been assigned as a mail clerk. He and others pictured here arirved on Okinawa early this year.

COUNTY FEES ARE UP $3000 OVER LAST YEAR

Fees for handling papers in the county recorder's office for the month of March reached $17,904.80, more than $3,000 above the figure for that month the previous year, $14,754.37.

A total of 7239 papers were handled for the month period this year, as compared with 6004 for March in 1952.

There were 105 marriages last month, 11 above the number for the month period the previous year.

Old Glory Auxiliary Members Attend Counties Council

President Marie Gehrig of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, VFW, accompanied by Ruth Brulez, Bonnie Ellenwood, Ethel Dorn, Lena Pardini, Clara Poket, Lorraine Schneider, Elizabeth Sorensen and Josie Valenti attended the regular San Mateo-Santa Clara counties council at Palo Alto recently.

A moving picture, taken on the battlefield in Korea, illustrated the life history of a pint of blood from the time it was donated in New York until it arrived in Korea and is used on a patient.

Henry Heissner, a Korean veteran, gave an interesting talk on the need for blood.

The veterans are holding an all-out blood drive on Friday, May 1. All persons have been asked by the Auxiliary to give a pint of their blood.

Mrs. Schneider, who is president of the council, honored all of her officers, as this was the last meeting of her term. She presented all of them with corsages made from wood fibre.

New Civic Center

Burlingame's city council this week moved ahead on a campaign to build a new civic center for that town.

In opening his campaign for a new civic center, Andrew C. Byrd, who was serving his next to last meeting as mayor, asserted that the city of Burlingame is "the most ill-housed public body on the Peninsula."

Charging that "our various departments are stumbling over each other," Byrd said that the present building of the engineering department, formerly Red Cross headquarters, "would be condemned if it were owned by any one other than a public body."

Not Court, Not Jury

The San Bruno city council last week agreed it was neither a judge nor a jury and summarily gave a 3-2 vote of confidence in City Manager Matt W. Slankard, despite protests from Councilman William Maurer.

Maurer, who had accused Slankard of falsifying his application for the post and in general doing a lousy job as city manager, called the vote a "white-wash."

The Threadbare Politicoes

Everybody wants to get into the act.

As county budget requests soared recently more than $3,000,000 over the previous year, so the county's elective officials began making noises about fattening their paychecks.

If our memory doesn't fail us, we recall the candidates for county offices singing out lustily of their economy at the last election.

Now that they are firmly entrenched for a few years they feel it's time to put the squeeze on the electors' pocketbooks.

Our esteemed sheriff, who is getting $8460, now seeks $3600 more a year because the municipal courts came into being and under law he also is marshal of the courts.

The new title, he thinks, should be worth three grand. We don't.

Sundry other "representatives of the people," all the way from some of the members of the board of supervisors, on down through the various categories of judges and elected department heads are hankering to get in on the big give-a-way-raises show.

Alvin S. Hatch, chairman of the board, says the supervisors themselves are planning to sponsor a bill which would raise their annual salaries from $4800 to $6000.

Funny, we don't recollect hearing about any bill of that sort in Hatch's platform.

The county employees who are elected by the people ought to be able to devise a less sneaky way of upping their wages.

We suggest that those interested in getting rich in county office make a plank in their platform.

Those who don't like the pay should either forget about holding office or wait until the next election to sing their woes of poverty.

We'll all listen . . . carefully, then.

Another Dose Of Hocus Pocus

Daly City officials and those from other communities in the county met with county officials recently to discuss two new propositions, both of which we deem unfavorable to this city as they now stand.

The first bit of hocus pocus was a tidy little idea that stands to net the county a cool $30,000 a year, the cities nothing but a headache.

This is a plan whereby the county would set itself up as a license-giver for all public eating establishments.

The county master minds want to set up a schedule of fees to be charged each establishment for sanitation permits.

This fee would accrue to the county. It would be an addition to the regular city business license already necessary for establishments.

The businessmen would rightfully scream, ask for a lowering of the business license rate, which might have to be granted. The county would go on making its semi-annual inspections, raking in the 'ravy, while the cities take the nether end.

The other joker is the county flood control plan. This neatly conceived bit of chicanery would allow the county to charge up to two cents per $100 valuation for property located anywhere in the district. In addition, if an area was designated in a flood zone, a levy of 40 cents per $100 could be made.

In other words, Daly City, where a minimum of flood danger exists, might be lying in a flood zone, according to the supervisors, and they could arbitrarily lower a 40 cent tax on the property owners here.

The catch is that under the plan now pending the supervisors constitute the governing board of the district.

We might be inclined to go along with the flood control plan if:

1. The cities were given an equal voice in operations of the district.

2. Some means of reimbursing cities for flood control work already completed could be arranged.

As these two morsels of legislation now stand, they aren't worth the paper they're written on—not to the cities anyway.

He Wants His Too

You have another date with the tax collector on April 15. This chap keeps the money nearer home and doesn't dig so deep in your pocket, but he wants his and he'll get it, or else. Hence, we wish to advise that you had better see to it that he gets it on or before the 15th of April.

"His" name is the Franchise Tax Board and his address is Sacramento, 14, California. All he wants is about 1 per cent of your net earnings after exemptions of $2,000 if you're single and $3,500 if you're the head of a family, plus $400 for each additional dependent.

If you're a newcomer to California, don't assume that you won't have to pay a tax. The best thing to do is to inquire. It's safer. And remember the deadline—April 15.

A Public Proclamation

By Anthony Gaggero, Mayor of Daly City

Last year some 212,000 families lost a father, a mother or a child to cancer. Of these more than 100,000 were in the prime of life, between the ages of 30 and 65. They were stricken when their families, their work, and their communities needed them most.

Those who have lost a dear one know cancer as a terrible threat. They know that the disease reaches beyond the patient to family and loved ones all of whom must share a serious burden.

Happily, there is a brighter side. Physicians can now cure cancer if the disease is diagnosed early and treated promptly. Today, however, only one in four who have the disease are being saved.

We as individuals have a great responsibility. We can strike back at cancer through contributing to the cancer crusade.

Lives will be saved in our country, our state, our community and perhaps in our families.

Therefore, I, Anthony Gaggero, mayor of Daly City, take great pleasure in proclaiming April as cancer control month.

I call on all citizens to join in the cancer crusade of the American cancer society. I heartily subscribe to the crusade's theme:

"Guard your family, strike back. Give to conquer cancer."

HOW CAN I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a test for watered milk?

A. Dip a well-polished knitting needle into the milk for a few second. If the milk is pure, it will form in a large drop at the end of the needle; if watered, it will either run down quickly and drop in several small drops, or the point will appear dry and clean.

Q. How can I cake a practical polish for all metals?

A. Use one cup of cigar ashes mixed with a tablespoon bicarbonate of soda brought to a smooth paste by the addition of water. Use on a soft cloth, rubbing vigorously.

Q. How can I make good pot-holders?

A. When making pot-holders, it is a good idea to insert a layer of leather from an old glove through the center. This will eliminate danger of burned fingers, as leather is a nonconductor of heat.

Q. How can I save gas when boiling liquids?

A. A good thing to remember is that boiling liquids are no hotter when boiling rapidly than when boiling slowly. Have just enough flame to keep the liquids at the boiling point, and this will aid greatly in lowering that gas bill.

Q. How often should the water for the goldfish be changed?

A. When the golfish comes to the top of the bowl for air it is time to change the water. Use cool water, as goldfish do not like the temperature warm, with the exception of the tiny tropical fish.

Q. How can I make the mouth appear longer?

A. Application of lipstick to the corners of the mouth actually elongates the line of the mouth. Remember this if you wish to make the mouth seem larger or smaller than it actually is.

Q. How can I be insured of good results when painting?

A. See that the surface to be painted is thoroughly dry. Moisture, if allowed to remain in the wood, will eventually be drawn to the surface by the heat and cause blistering of the paint.

Q. How can I remove scars caused by severe burns?

A. Try massaging with pure olive oil. Use the finger tips and massage lightly with a rotary movement. It often takes many repeated treatments to do the work. Be persistent.

Q. How can I prepare honey cinnamon toast?

A. Spread slices of toast with butter, brush with honey (about one tablespoonful of honey for each slice), sprinkle with cinnamon, and toast in oven long enough to blend the cinnamon and honey.

Q. What is the best time for transplanting evergreen shrubs and trees.

A. Evergreen shrubs and trees are best transplanted during the two months of the year beginning with the letter "A"—April and August.

Gas Garden Tillers

A garden tiller powered by a gasoline engine tills the earth up to six inches deep in foot-wide strips. A rotary snow plow attachment clears heavy or light snow from sidewalks and driveways, throwing it 15 feet from the cleared path.

Manager Of Cage Team Says Forfeits In Rec League Unfair To Joseph Sarto

April 7, 1953

The Record
Daly City, Calif.
Dear Sirs:

In regard to your article on the Jefferson Union high school basketball league last Friday, March 27, I thought it might be a good idea to supplement the information printed in relation to the forfeiture of the Sartos A.C. vs. Hoyt Heaters game.

Under ordinary circumstances the Jefferson Union high school gym is open to the general public and particularly to the citizens of Daly City, but in this instance, exception was taken to one of the Sarto A.C. members solely because he was a student of Jefferson Union high school.

The Daly City recreation department did not see fit to make an issue of this fact until after the Sarto A.C. team, with the "intruder" from Jefferson, beat Hoyt Heaters.

During the following week the recreation department decided to forfeit the game to Hoyts. The stand taken by the recreation department seems to be that while the members of Hoyts team can be adult college or university players, Sartos team cannot include a high school player even though there was not and is not any ruling in the league rules pertaining to high school participants.

Another thing that should be brought to your attention, is that the recreation department could not find time to notify Sarto's A.C. of the forfeiture until a few minutes before the following week's game. Consequently, Sarto's lost another game they had won, because it was necessary to include the high school player in the lineup; there not being enough time to contact another of Sarto's players who was working that night.

As a result of the understandable (?) forfeitures the Sarto's Atheletic Club has withdrawn from the league.

In all seriousness, the issue warrants no great concern other than the fact that Mr. Joseph Sarto was done an injustice, as he has for many years initiated and supported many athletic and civic endeavors for the young people of Daly City and Colma. And Tom Costello, the high school student involved, was denied the use of the Jefferson Union high school gymnasium.

The members of the Sarto A.C. basketball team and myself would appreciate your publishing this leter in the hope that it will clear up any questions that may remain concerning the character and eligibility of Tom Costello or his teammates.

Yours truly,
Bernard Orovitz, manager
Sarto's Atheltic Club

Home Rule

In order to advance the principle of home rule, the Indiana legislature has approved a proposed constitutional amendment giving the cities and towns of the state authority to choose their own form of government. Before it becomes effective, the amendment must be approved by the 1955 General Assembly and submitted to the voters for ratification.

MY MAD WORLD

by Leonore Brewer

The music critic for one of the San Francisco dailies recently devoted his Sunday column to the problem of why recital attendance has sunk so low. Never before in our history has good music interested so many, yet this interest is not reflected at the box office. He requested readers' opinions on this problem, and I reached for my typewriter with a joyous shout. Most of my life is spent waiting for someone to ask my opinion on something. Most times I don't even wait to be asked.

Part of Answer

It is doubtful if the entire blame for this situation can be laid at any one door, but a glance at the page on which his column appeared reveals at least part of the answer. Within the space of six days, nine musical events were scheduled to occur in San Francisco, with an additional five to appear within an equal number of subsequent days. Mind you, this was a musical calendar only, which didn't take into consideration what might be playing at the Geary, the Curran, the United Nations, exhibits at local art galleries and the better films—all contenders for the time and money of the concert going public. The spirit is willing, but the flesh and the pocketbook are weak.

The critic further asked why people don't glorify individual artists as in the past.

Too Many Stars

There are just too many of them. When there was only one Pavlova, her coming was a tremendous event, greeted with slavering anticipation. Today, there isn't just one Pavlova, there are at least half-a-dozen, (names upon request). For the lovers of ballet, this is a good thing, but it results in a lesser share of glory for the individual ballerina.

The possibility of TV stealing the audience from the artist was touched upon, but can be dismissed with a contemptous shrug. Anyone who is accustomed to going to the concert hall or theater for his entertainment is not going to be lured from the box office by ten-year-old movies and assorted flimflam, free though they be.

Perhaps something can be done about the behavior of the audience at musical events. Perhaps something can be done to keep the doors shut and the disinterested latecomers outside until the first intermission, rather than permit them to trip gaily down the aisles, waving at their little friends and making what must be fascinating post-concert dates. When the noise of an audience reaches the point where our conductor silences the orchestra, it is time that something be done.

Noise Will Increase

What has this do with the problem under discussion? There are popcorn palaces into which I would never set foot, even though the management paid me to attend. They are noisy houses, and nothing is done about it. The noise that is permitted in the opera house now is not going to subside voluntarily. Unless checked, it will increase, decibel by decibel. When the hum of the audience can occasionally be heard above an opera, just what chance does a single voice have? Better you stay home, and over your hi-fi equapment listen to the same voice in the uninterrupted peace of your own living room.

Have mercy upon us, O Lord, have mercy upon us; for we are exceedingly filled with contempt. —(Psalm CXXIII, 3.)

When we ourselves walk in the ways of the Lord but fail to try to help those who do not, we are departing from the teachings of God's Word. It is right that we have contempt for evil as such, but no man should be held in our contempt but rather in our Christian charity, that we may endeavor always to help those who need help.

YOUR COUNTY'S BUSINESS

Representatives of all San Mateo county cities met last week with the county to lay plans for a county flood control district which would be supported by all property owners in the county whether they would benefit directly or not.

Only opposition to the plan came from Atherton City Councilman George H. Linsley, who declared a flood control district should include only those areas that have problems, and should not cover the whole county.

However, several changes in the proposed bill were suggested by other city representatives, having to do mainly with which officials will sit as the governing body of the district, and whether cities are to get adequate credit for flood control work already done or under way.

As the bill now stands, the county board of supervisors would be the governing body of the district. Suggestion was made at the meeting the municipal representatives be given some weight on the governing group.

The necessity for quick action on the bill was expressed by Alvin S. Hatch, chairman of the supervisors, who said Assemblymen Richard J. Dolwig and Daniel J. Creedon are anxious to have the bill at the earliest possible date for legislative consideration. The local bill will be substituted for a dummy holding bill submitted to the legislature earlier this year by the assemblymen.

Under tentative plans, the county would be divided into zones, following public hearings, and special projects would be undertaken, with property owners in the zones sharing the cost of the work according to the amount of benefit received.

A maximum two-cent would be imposed on all taxpayers in the county, however, for administration of the district, without regard to benefits received from the district.

According to terms of the bill as it now stands, credit for flood control work already done would be granted to cities if the work was done within a year of passage of the act.

The district would be in effect this year. A tax levy would not be included in the 1953-54 assessment.

"The company's not going to build that new plant on Front street," George Rimer remarked to his wife.

"Oh, I thought it was all settled!" the Mrs. sighed. "I thought you were gonig to make a lot of money out of it."

"So did everybody at the office. But with all this talk that the excess profits tax may be continued, the directors decided it was too much risk to take when there'd be little chance of much profit,' 'said George.

"Do you make excess profits?"

"The law says we do— and how!" George groaned. "We pay 82 cents on every dollar on the top part of our earnings."

"Why, that leaves you only 18 cents. I don't think that's fair."

"It isn't a matter of fairness, but of good economics," said George. "Such a tax hits hardest at young companies, like ours, which were making only a small profit in the four years — 1946-49 — that the government fixed as the base period for normal earnings. Whenever we make more than five-sixths of the money we made in the best three of those four years, we have to pay excess profits tax on it."

"I thought they were going to drop this excess profits tax."

"It expires next June 30, unless Congress extends it," George explained. "But with everybody finding it so hard to cut Federal expenses, our company's afraid to take a chance."

"I thought businessmen always took chances," the Mrs. commented.

"We'll take chances all right," said George. "But when it comes to betting dollars we might lose against 18-cents-pieces we might gain, we figure we haven't much chance to take."

Expanding

A survey by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission shows that American businessmen expect to spend $500,000,000 more on new plant and equipment programs in $1953 than they spent in 1952—$27,000,000,000 in 1953 compared with $26,500,000,000 last year. Officials say that if conditions enable businessmen to carry out their plans, their spending will be a "sturdy prop under the economy."

Tuberous Begonias Will Reward Grower With Masses of Beautiful Blossoms

Can Be Counted On For Outstanding Display All Through The Summer And Fall Months

By Shirl Mollette
Daly City Garden Club

All gardens have a shaded or semi-shaded place where a mass of color will be effective and tuberous begonias is the one plant that may be counted upon for an outstanding display all through the summer and fall months. It is one of the easiest plants to grow if certain minor fundamentals are followed. The plants under proper care will reward the grower with masses of large beautiful blossoms which will be the envy of the neighborhood.

Don't Remove Roots

The home gardner should remember that the dry roots at the base of the tubers should never be removed. These roots are the protection for the tubers and may tear off chunks of tissue if removed and permit disease to enter.

Now for starting media — Begonia tubers are usually started any time from February through April in a mixture of peat moss or leaf mold with a small amount of sand added for drainage. The mixture is placed in a seed flat or shallow box and leveled so that it is just below the top edge.

Moist Mixture

The mixture should be moist at the time it is used. Firm the tubers into the starting media so that it is about half its own depth but be certain that top or crown is not buried. The top of the tuber, which may be determined by the indentation usually found there, should never be covered or it may have a tendency to rot out. Place the tuber so there will be about one inch between them.

After firming the tubers in to the media the entire planting should be watered thoroughly. To be perfectly safe so that the tubers will not be subjected to any late frost the flat may be placed in the basement which is usually warm and encourages top growth. After the danger of frost the flat may be placed out of doors where it will receive filtered light.

Prepare Bed

At least two weeks before the tubers are transplanted their bed should be prepared for them. Their bed should be deeply turned and a large amount of organic matter forked in. The ideal would be 50% of leaf mold or compost in the soil to a depth of six inches. A small amount of cow manure should be stirred in to provide some bacteria and warmth. Moisten the entire area after preparing so that the bacteria will begin to function.

About six weeks after the tubers have been started they are ready for planting in place. Lift them carefully from the flats so they will not be disturbed and plant them in their beds being careful not to place them any deeper than they were before. It is advisable to place a stake or bamboo cane alongside each plant as support for the succulent brittle stems.

Start Feeding

When the plants have been established about two weeks a feeding program may be started. Use any good complete plant food, scattering it lightly around each tuber and being careful not to get it on any of the plants. Water it thoroughly right after applying to get it off the plant and down into the soil. Light feedings every three or four weeks will keep the plant in good growing condition.

Be careful with the amount of water used for the plants, while they like to be kept moist they also like good drainage. Too much water under poor drainage conditions will cause rot to start in the

Add Dwarf Lobelia For Border Beauty

For edging a bed of annuals, for spacing through your rock garden or for adding a drift of blue color in some unusual location, don't overlook the dwarf lobelia. Here is a superb border plant of proven merit that has won the affection of gardeners far and wide.

Dwarf lobelia, according to the California Bedding Plant Advisory Board, works well as a double border with the yellow and orange of dwarf marigold, the many shades of dwarf begonia or with dwarf white alyssum. In rock gardens lobelia provides a beautiful contrast with alyssum saxatile or Iberis Sempervirens.

The most popular variety is Crystal Palace. In full sun areas, its flowers deepen to indigo blue while the foliage turns a rich bronzy red. Several lighter blue varieties are favored by some gardeners and a white variety also is generally available. All have the same dwarf growth and the same heavy yield of blossoms.

Lobelia is started from one of the smallest seeds in the flower kingdom, yet the mature plant is strong and sturdy and takes considerable abuse. Plants set out from flats now will quickly establish themselves. They will require little care and will withstand considerable drought. Lobelia rarely is troubled by any of the common garden pests. And should a plant start growing out of bounds, a quick haircut will trim it down to the desired size; in a few days time it will be back to normal, yielding blossoms by the bushel.

Aboretum Highlights

Highlight of Spring-bloom in the Strybing Arboretum is provided this weekend by the larger-flowered Japanese Cherries. Those generally belong to Prunus serrulata, of which species many varieties are in cultivation, differing in color, habit, and degree of doubling of the flowers. One of the finest now in flower is Prunus serrulata variety Kwanzan, with strongly ascending branches, and large clusters of fully double, deep pink blossoms. This may be seen on the path northwest of the old Rosegarden.

Just across the walk from this cherry may be seen a very fine Rhododendron, Rh. x "Countess of Haddington." Its flowers are shaped much like an Easter-lily, and of a delicate white-flushed pink color. This has the peculiarity of nearly always being in bloom at Easter, and might be worth testing as a florist subject for the Easter trade. Other Rhododendrons are coming along fast, but the finest in the Strybing Arboretum undoubtedly is Rhododendron Loderi var. King George, near the gate at the Bandstand. Another remarkable Rhododendron is the nearly true blue Rhododendron Augustinii, from Western China. This last is now flowering near the Rosegarden, where numerous other spring flowers may be found, including some of the new Glenn Dale Azaleas.

CHRONOLOGY FOR HEALTHY ROSE -- THE GARDEN QUEEN

Roses are the pride of your garden, but they need care and you must have patience. To insure their beauty and splendor, we recommend the following suggestions for the care of the plant.

Do not feed or water the plant during the domant period, from October 15 through late fall and early spring. This gives the plant time to rest and develop hard canes, which prevents dieback after pruning.

In January spray with a solution of lime, sulphur and oil to kill spores of Black Spot and other fungus diseases. "Cal-Sul" is excellent for this purpose.

Pruning should be done when eyes start to swell, between first and fifteenth of February. Leave about six eyes from crown. This should be about ten inches from graft. (Treat tree roses similarly). Always cut just above eye on a sixty degree angle (parallel to the bud) to keep the cut dry and prevent rot and infection. Then apply "Tree Seal," a grafting wax which will prevent the cut from bleeding.

Two weeks after pruning, apply one half cup of Vigoro per plant. Then a mulch of well-rotted cow manure should be applied at the rate of one cubic foot to every three plants. Spade the ground about eight to twelve inches deep, leaving the ground rough so sunshine and air can penetrate to rots and expedite the formation of bacteria. After this operation wait for at least ten days before watering, then soak the ground well, allowing water to run slowly and soak deeply. Roses require plenty of water. Keep beds moist at all times during growing season and remember that one good soaking is better than frequent light sprinklings.

About March make a saucer-shaped hole around the plant about sixteen inches in diameter and up to six inches deep for the purpose of feeding and watering. Apply a complete, balanced plant food such as Vigoro, which cointains all the elements plants need for proper growth and health. A healthy plant can resist 80 per cent of diseases. About one pound of Vigoro should be used for every five plants. In addition, supply well-rotted cow manure at the rate of one cubic foot for each four plants. Then fill holes with water twice so that plant food will be carried to the roots. Repeat this procedure every eight weeks. Water plants twice weekly with a thorough soaking. Do not spade ground again until the following winter because the fibrous roots might be destroyed or damaged.

To promote health and vigor and to destroy such Coast enemies as powdery mildew, black spot, and aphis, we recommend dusting. Regular dusting every week or 10 days will make the disease-insect problem easy to handle. We recommend that about every six weeks the dusting be replaced with a spray, following the directions on the bottle.

FIRE FIGHTERS' FACTS

By Mel Hanson
Fire Prevention Bureau

Since January 1, 1953 the Daly City Fire department has responded to five kitchen fires. These fires were caused from the overheating of greases and oils in the process of cooking. Three of the fires occured on the burners of the stove and the other occurred in the oven.

There isn't much to be said of the fires in the ovens, other than the fact that caution should be used in regulating the heat. Many of these fires can be extinguished by turning off gas, sprinkling baking soda or salt on the fire or, better still, place a lid on the pan.

We are most interested in the fires that occure on the top of the stove. These fires can be and are most serious.

These fires can be extinguished in the same manner as mentioned above, but the excitement of seeing the flames cause some people to do many things that they would not do under normal circumstances. In three kitchen fires, the frying pans or pots were removed from the stove and placed in the sink, the flames from the pan or pot ignited the curtains and causing a great deal of unnecessary damage to the whole kitchen.

Flame - Proof Curtains

If the curtains had been flame proofed the damage to the kitchens would have been minor. It has been a standard practice in some homes to flame proof the curtains throughout the entire house. This can be done with little expense—the price of a box of borax powder and four ounces of boric acid powder.

The process of flameproofing curtains is quite simple. First, wash the curtains in the usual manner, then spin or wring dry and, just before hanging up to dry, dip the fabric into a solution of borax and allow to drip dry on the line.

Solution

The solution is: Nine ounces of powder borax and four ounces of powdered boric acid in one gallon of luke warm water. This Solution will in no way effect the fabric or cause any discoloration, we hope you will try this flameproofing process, we know it works and will be beneficial in case of fire.

First Aid Class

The First Aid class that the members of the Daly City Fire department have been attending ended with 11 men out of the original 12 taking the test. The class was for a standard course in first aid. An advance course will be held during the year.

Veteran Firemen's Dinner

The Veteran Firemens' association of the Daly City Fire department held their third "Past Presidents' Night" Friday evening, at their meeting hall on Santa Barbara avenue. Twenty six members were present to honor the past presidents. The committee did a fine job in preparing the cracked crab, prawns and the rest of the food for the evening. A motion picture was presented by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co, "Sierra Fish and Game." This picture was well received and appreciated by those present. A wonderful time was had by all.

Things To Come

Spring clean up week will soon be here. More will be said about it in this column from week to week. We hope you will participate in it during the week. The widows and orphans ball will be held in the memorial building on May 9 of this year.

CAR TOOLS DO DISAPPEAR

Motorists who never pay the slightest attention to the state of the tool kit nearly always pay the penalty of having to call professional assistance to make roadside repairs that would have been simple had the right tool been handy, points out the National Automobile Club. It pays to check over the tool kit occasionally, particularly with reference to pliers, lug wrench, and others of the more necessary features.

League Opener Here Pegged Key Game; Lewkowitz Will Hurl For Indians

The 1953 Peninsula Athletic league baseball race gets off to an impressive start today as San Mateo and Jefferson, touted as the pair to watch this year, square off on the local diamond at 3:15 p.m.

Coach Lou Martin, making his tutoring debut here in league play, will put All-PAL hurler Joe Lewkowitz on the mound.

Martin has been using Lewkowitz intermittently in practice games recently and big Joe has three official wins, one loss to his credit.

Mateans Tough

The locals will be facing a tough club in the San Mateo aggregation, the defending champs. Last year found Jefferson and the Bearcats vying for the league crown in a best two out of three series, with the Mateans coming out on top.

The '52 champs return strong this year, boasting a roster predominately made up of returning veterans.

However, as Martin points out, the local nine isn't exactly in sorry shape.

Pitching Parade

Backing up Lewkowitz in the No. 2 pitching post is Don Delbon, a junior, who Martin thinks will have a "great year" this season.

Two other hurlers, Lowell Creighton, and Dan Bertelli, provide ample depth in this department.

Creighton has hurled two shutout in practice sessions.

Likely to wield a potent bat today are Lewkowitz, George Pedroni, Larry Blanchard, Ray Rosa and Joe Earnshaw. All have been hitting at a better than .300 clip in this season's 12 practice games.

Rosa, potential all-league short stop, is Martin's lead-off man. Following him is Leo Villar, second baseman, who has managed to get on base 12 times in 24 trips to the plate.

.450 Last Year

Pedroni, who holds down left field, is a transfer from Tamalpais, where he hit a hefty .450 last year. Pedroni bats fourth in the order, after Blanchard.

First sacker Joe Earnshaw has been turning in a capable performance at that spot. The port-sider is hitting at .315 at present.

Receiving Lewkowitz' offerings will be junior John Madden, who has about a .285 mark batting in practice games, and who Martin pegs as "one of the best prep catching prospects" he's seen this year.

Depth, Versatility

Martin apparently won't be plagued this season with the injury bugaboo, since his charges are all on the versatile side.

His pitchers all perform well in the outfield and his infielders have been switched in practice games with much success.

In their past 12 outings the Jeffs haven't rung up any startling record, winning six out of 12 contests. But out of the last six contests the Indians have won five.

Martin used almost exclusively reserve material in the first half-dozen practice tilts, and the team's 5-1 record since then with the regulars in there gives some indications of the teams potential.

Stress On Bat Power

In past weeks' workouts Martin has emphasized hitting, and he says it should pay off today. He explained that all the league aggregations seem weak in that department, so he decided to do something about it locally.

Martin thinks his hurling will equal anything the Mateans have to offer, and his hitting should at least "be on a par" with the opposition.

Today's contest, as Martin describes it, will be the "key game" of the 1953 campaign. In addition the chances are a sprinkling of scouts will be in the stands to watch the array of talent which will be on parade.

It's only the first league contest for both teams, but the crown may be decided on the Daly City diamond today.

Pack 84 Teams Win; In Crucial Tomorrow

It looks as if nothing can stop the unbeaten Pack 84 baseball teams. Both won their games again last Saturday. The A team took Westlake's Pack 248 by a score of 34 to 7; the B team won over Pack 1, 21 to 10.

In the A team game, home runs were hit by James Heick, Terry Christman, Bill Dougherty, and Bobby Goodwin. Bobby Goodwin pitched the whole game, striking 10 men out. Tomorrow (Saturday) the A team meets Pack 43 at Ocean View Park at 10 a.m.

In the B team game Saturday, Lee Pitts and Bill Hix hit a home run apiece, and Wayne Moon hit two! The pitching was shared by Cornell Holmes and Don Clemens. Coach Lee Pitts proudly points to a good team spirit as one of the principal reasons for their fine showing.

The next game the B team will play will be a critical one. They meet Pack 152 at Vicente Park, 40th and Vincente, at 12 noon tomorrow. The 152 team is the only other unbeaten team in the "Western" league. This game will be an exciting one, and parents and friends are urged to attend.

12-MILE HOUSE TAKES LEAD IN ADULT LEAGUE

The fast-breaking 12-Mile House squad from South San Francisco scored a 33-27 upset win over the Hoyt Water Heater five in last Thursday's Adult Basketball league play.

With 57 seconds remaining in the contest the South City club edged into a two-point lead, 29 to 27. The Hoytmen, trying desperately to hit the mark in the waning moments, let their defense go to pot, allowing the winners to score two more field goals before the game ended.

Art Valverdi, former Jefferson high star, was the big gun for the South City cagers, scoring 13 points. He connected on five free throws in five attempts. The Hoyt five was sparked by Sears, Stow and Ex-U.S.F. Star MacKenzie, who scored 9, 7 and 6 points, respectively.

The loss for Hoyt's marked their first defeat in three starts, dropping them into third place behind the 12-Mile House and the Past-time club.

The win gave the 12-Mile House team undisputed possession of first place with a 3-0 record.

In Thursday's second game Sarto's won a thrilling overtime contest from the strong Pastime club of San Francisco, only to relinquish the win by forfeit because they used a high school player.

The win for the Pastime club leaves them with a perfect 2-0 record and possession of second place in the league.

Sarto's second consecutive forfeit loss drops them to fourth place.

Ralph's Cleaners, who drew a bye Thursday, still command the cellar with no wins and two losses.

KEG LEADERS DROP TWO BUT STILL COMMAND DALY CITY-COLMA LEAGUE

The leaders took a beating in this week's Daly City-Colma bowling league, but the standings remained on a status quo, as the Hilltop Cab keglers remained in first place with a 52-32 record.

The Hilltoppers dropped two games to King's Market, but the second-place Daly City-Colma Lions still remained two games out of first as they also dropped a couple to cellar-dwelling George's Theater grill.

Timossi Motors moved into a second-place tie with the Lions by sweeping three from Central Club. The runners-up each have 50-34 marks.

Their hot streak gave the Timossi men high team game, 900, high team series, 2570, and they also claimed high individual game, as Til Bertini rolled a 216.

George Curry of Thur Meat Co. racked up a 556 series to lead that category in the Tuesday evening play.

Only two more weeks of league bowling remain.

Jefferson 20s First, Varsity Second In Track Meet With Bay Area Schools

In a quadrangular meet last Thursday with three Bay Area high schools Jefferson high emerged with one first, a second and a third.

The local 20s captured their division with 30 points, while the varsity was runner-up with 45½ points and the 30s took third with 36 1/3 markers.

Lowell Klaisner led the 20s, winning the 150 and 75-yard dashes and anchoring the winning relay team. Klaisner turned in an 8.7 in the 75 yard test and a 16.6 in the 150. Other members of the Jeffs' winning relay team were Cliff Lawson, Jerry Sullivan and Duane Hale.

The Indians' varsity relay aggregation—Len Monson, Al Schenone, Bill Butler and Wally Honeywell—took the relay in 1:35.4.

Monson also won the quarter-mile in 54.2, with Honeywell runner-up. Schenone led the field in the 880 with a 2:05.5 effort and Butler leaped out 19 feet to win the broadjump.

The varsity pole vault was taken by Paul Bollinger of Jefferson, who cleared 10 ft. 7 in. Mike Cloonan gave Jefferson a second in the discus with a heave of 113 feet.

Jim Rector and John Marshall placed one-two in the 30s 1320 race. Rector toured the distance in 3:42.2, with Marshall a scant yard behind.

Ron Harris took the low hurdles in 14.9 and Wayne Webb won the 150-yard dash in 15.9. Webb and Harris combined with Dick Smith and Gary Baker to win the 30s relay in 48.4.

Dave Coates vaulted 8 ft. 3 in. to give Jeff a first in that event.

TIRE BLOW-OUT

When an automobile is overloaded, there is bound to be considerable flexing of the tires, particularly at high speeds. The California State Automobile Association points out that flexing and speed combine to create excessive heat which is usually the underlying cause of tire blow-outs.

San Rafael Team Skunked By Jeffs

In a practice game at San Rafael last week, the Jefferson Indians diamondmen blanked the opposition, 9 to 0.

Larry Blanchard smashed a three-run round-tripper and Joe Lewkowitz and Lowell Creighton combined a two-hitter.

The rangy Lewkowitz whiffed six batters and allowed only one hit in five complete frames, yielding to Creighton after the Indians had scored seven times. Creighton allowed a single hit in his two innings on the mound.

A triple by Lewkowitz, four singles and an error netted the Indians four runs in the first inning.

With Blanchard's three-run blow the Jeffs went ahead 7 to 0.

Five consecutive walks in the sixth frame accounted for two runs.

JEFFS OUT-HIT LINCOLN BUT DROP TILT 6-4

Jefferson high's varsity out-hit Lincoln high of San Francisco Monday, 10 to 5, but still suffered a 6-4 setback in the practice contest.

The Jeffs got the hits, lambasting two pitchers for 10 safeties, but couldn't get off the bags, as they left nine men stranded on the bases.

Dan Bertelli went all the way for the Indians, giving up five hits. Ray Rosa, Joe Earnshaw and George Pedroni each connected twice for hits to lead the Jeffs.

Joe Lewkowitz got a round tripper in the sixth with none on.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Another week has passed and once again it is time to see what has happened in this town of ours. As usual there has been a lot of "goings on" among your neighbors and mine. Easter, of course, was the big event in the lives of both young and old. When one is very young one looks forward to Easter with all the excitement and anticipation that only a child can have. As for the rest of us, there are two ways of looking—at the past Easters and all they have meant, and to the future ones that we hope bring us the re-newed true faith and trust that we had as children.

Greetings

MRS. EVE HOBBS of Risel street celebrated her twenty-eighth wedding anniversary last week. All who know Eve wish her many more years of happiness. Twenty-eight years of marriage is quite some record folks, don't you think?

Celebrating birthdays on the same day this week, fact is today, will be JOHN MADDEN of Knowles avenue and MRS. DOROTHY STONE of Theta avenue. Congratulations and happy birthday to these two neighbors.

A birthday party was held at the LIBERTI home last week. Seems that their son KENNETH was seven years old. The day was celebrated with the usual gathering of young friends plus cake and ice cream. Happy birthday, Kenny.

Friends of MRS. CONDON, who has been ill for the past month with reheumatic fever, will be glad to hear that she is on the road to recovery. MRS. CONDON has a host of friends and well wishers who are glad to hear that she is better. Here's hoping that she is back among us soon.

MRS. MARY BUTCHER of Brunswick street had a gathering of friends at her home Wednesday of last week. These people were all there for the purpose of a benefit for St. Michael's church. An enjoyable evening was spent by all who attended. There were games of chance and refreshments were served which all enjoyed.

Servicemen

Another of "our boys" has come home. Cpl. Melvin E. Schiedt, the son of MR. and MRS. SCHEIDT of Winchester street, has returned to civilian life after serving his country. Mel, as well as all the others, could tell us a few stories, but he is like all the rest in that he figures it was "just something that had to be done" and he did it. Welcome home, Melvin.

Ex-G.I. PAT HAMILTON has chosen a career which he probably much prefers to marching. Pat is an apprentice carpenter under the G. I. Bill and likes it fine. Good luck, Pat, on your new job.

Neighbors, I said good bye today to one of "your boys and mine." Tuesday he takes a great big boat for a tour of duty of at least one year. He follows in the footsteps of many boys who have taken the same journey. He also precedes many who will follow him. Do you know and can you understand just what it means to say good bye to a boy that you have known for many, many years? Will this be the last good bye or will there be a ring at the bell some day and there he will stand with the big grin that you have always known?

These are just boys, folks, yet they are men, too. They are leaving everything that is near and dear to them. Do any of us that sit in the comforts of our homes really realize just what they are heading for? Where they are going there are no comforts, no pleasures and nothing but the faith that they have in the folks that they have left behind them. The main thing that we can do is to see that they have letters, cards and above all, BLOOD that they may need to bring them back to those that love them. I know that you have heard this appeal many times but you can't hear it too often: GIVE NOW THAT THEY WHO GIVE SO MUCH MAY COME HOME. This is just one boy out of millions, but he represents all of them who have left and all those who are destined to leave. They ask so little—can't we give them what takes the least effort on our part—ONE PINT OF BLOOD!

A letter arrived at the home of MRS. DOROTHY STONE of Theta avenue last week. That in itself is no news—but the fact that the letter was from FRANCIS CARDINAL SPELLMAN, commenting on meeting her son, PFC. ROBERT E. STONE, in Korea last Christmas is what makes it so important. Seems that these two met while the Cardinal was on his tour of the Korean front during the 1952 Christmas season. It is a wonderful thing when a person, as busy as Cardinal Spellman must be, will take the time to sit down and personally write a letter to the mother of a boy that he just happened to meet.

New Arrivals

Wednesday of last week brought the news to all the friends of MR. and MRS. MITCHELL STEWART that they were the proud parents of a baby girl. The young lady was born in St. Francis Hospital and tipped the scales at 5 lbs. 13 ozs. Congratulations to the happy family.

MRS. JUNE LEONE added a new boy to her family last week. The young man now joins his older brother and twin sisters to even things up in the Leone family.

Many friends will be glad to hear that MRS. HENRIETTA GROW, the erstwhile HENRIETTA SABLE, of our town, also added another boy to her family last week. While they have recently moved to San Francisco, Henrietta has many friends in Daly City who wish her happiness with her new son.

Babies seem to be making the headlines this week for sure—the THOMAS BOCCIS of Garden Village had a christening last week. In fact it was a double christening. MR. and MRS. RICHARD BOCCI also had their baby christened at the same time.

The godparents of RANDY BOCCI, the son of our Judge, were MR. and MRS. MARIO MANDOLI and the godparents of RICKIE BOCCI, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bocci were MISS GLORIA JOHNS and MR. JERROLD BOCCI.

After the christening which took place at Holy Angels church with the Rev. Morrisey officiating, a cocktail party for 70 people was held at the home of Judge Bocci. Then in the evening a dinner party for about 30 people was held at the home of MRS. THOMAS BOCCI SR. Best wishes to both families from all the neighbors.

News and Views

There has been a campaign going on all this week to find out any and all unknown cases of tuberculosis in Daly City. There has been a recent survey of all the cities in San Mateo county and, neighbors, do you know that Daly City is the second on the list in the rate of TB? This is not necessary at all. There will be trucks, or mobile units as they are called, in "our town" all week for each and every one of us to have a free check up. MRS. EVE HOBBS, MRS. EMMA D'ISEP and MRS. MILDRED McGEEIN are just a few of the neighbors who are donating their time to this project. If any of the "neighbors" who haven't gone yet would like to know where to go for the X-rays here it is: Daly City Public Library on the 10th and 11th of April from the hours of 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. There is no need to undress at all. Just walk in, get your X-ray, fill out a card with your name and address and walk out. This is for your protection as well as that of all "your neighbors and mine" so let's get going.

This was submitted to me by one of our neighbors:

Oh it is great to be in the land of the free,
To worship and live as we please,
And the folks that we meet just can't be beat,
For nowhere are there friends such as these.

(By Mrs. Molly Walton)

Neighbors, don't you think this is an apt thought for these days? I hope that you like this one, and why don't some of the rest of you let me hear what you can do.

An enjoyable evening was spent last week by MRS. CLARA POKET who went to a stage play put on by the Shadow Players. The main objectives of this group are to provide an outlet for the dramatic talents of persons, who because of visual handicaps, are unable to participate in the activities of theatrical groups; to demonstrate that the visually handicapped can, with guidance, enjoy creative arts normally reserved for those more fortunate than they. According to Mrs. Poket it was a most wonderful and enlightening way to spend an evening.

Latest and most probably last news on the FASHION SHOW. As was stated before, this year's show is being put on by the mothers and children. Those participating will be: Gen. Chairman, Mrs. Ruth Cresta; Gen. Co-Chairman, Mrs. Mary Tiebout; and Commentator, Mrs. Isabelle Liberti. The models will be: (Mothers) Mesdames Marilyn Panella, May Jordan, Carmen Reyes, Josephine Lamendola, Lois Kelly, Eleanor Mumford, Valetta Ennis, and Catherine Ricci. Children modeling will be: Candy Panella, Francine and Charlotte Thiebout, Judith and Patsy Ricci, Mary Ann Mumford, Deidre Glick and Nancy Carr.

Pretty Little Miss Is No Slouch In Field Of Dog Showmanship

LEARNING YOUNG — Beverly Ann Overton, 778 Templeton avenue, handles mastiffs with the greatest of ease. Here she is shown receiving a trophy for placing second in the Oakland Kennel club dog show, competing with children up to 18 years of age. Beverly, though only seven, has already claimed many honors for handling show dogs. Shown with her is the family's boxer, Grand Premier.

SEVEN-YEAR OLD DALY CITY LASS WINS HONORS FOR SHOWING DOGS

Miss Beverly Ann Overton, 778 Templeton, is only seven years old but already has proven that her seniors don't have much on her when it comes to showing dogs.

Competing with children up to 18 years of age in the recent Oakland Kenel club all-breed dog show she grabbed off second place, after taking first place in the up-to-eight-years-old category.

Earlier this year, in January, the pretty little miss walked away with dog showmanhip honors in San Francisco. She led the field for children in her age group (up to eight) and then, in the winners' competition, she again emerged triumphant. This was competing with other dog showers up to 18 years of age.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Overton, Beverly has worked with dogs since the precocious age of three.

Judging in the show competition is made solely on the ability of the person handling the animal, but the young lady also has a good working partner in her family's dog, Grand Premier, a 13-month old boxer that has won its share of canine honors.

In the Oakland show, the dog took first place in the bred-by-exhibitor class, to step into the winers' circle with its master.

Beverly's parents rightly say their daughter "should go a long way in the field of dog handling." Who knows, she might even make it a profession.

Your Neighbors And Mine

Then there will be mother and daughter models presented by: Mrs. Panella and Candy, Mrs. Mumford and Mary Ann, Mrs. Ricci and Judith and Patsy. This looks like an all star show, neighbors, so let's all go and see "your neighbors and mine" at the Fashion Show.

Well, neighbors, this winds up another week's news. This was quite a week—Easter has come and gone, so have all the children. They are now back in school and the teachers may now take over our lovable little headaches. There is always something happening of interest to your neighbors and mine in this town of ours. Remember the phone is PL. 5-6482 and I am always glad to hear from each and every one of you. Let's hear from you. 'Bye now.

PULL CARNATIONS UP, START NEW CUTTINGS

If your carnation plants are overgrown, why not pull them up and start new cuttings from the tip ends of stems from these plants. Cut off five or six inches of the stem, pinch off two or three sets of leaves from the bottom. Then cut the butt end of the stem with a knife about a quarter of an inch up from the end.

Your cutting is then ready to place in sand or vermiculite or pearlite. Keep the media damp and in a cool shaded place. The cuttings will take root in about two or three weeks and then may be planted out or in pots.
